DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-9, 26-27, drawn to a composition, classified in class 510, subclass 130.
 - II. Claims 10-16, drawn to a method of use, classified in class 424, subclass 70.1.
 - III. Claims 17-25, drawn to a system, classified in class 221, subclass various.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the composition can be used for a different purpose such as tanning hide and in a different system such as a moist toweled.
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Jim French on June 16, 2005 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-9 and 26-27. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 10-25 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
9. Claims 1-7 and 26-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Thurman et al (2004/0121050).
10. Thurman et al disclose a color changing beverage composition comprising sodium bicarbonate, red cabbage powder, and sodium alginate (Example 2, first and second component mixtures).

As this reference teaches all of the instantly required it is considered anticipatory.

In the alternative, Thurman is silent with respect to the diameter of the sodium alginate beads. However, it would have been inherent to the compositions to comprise sodium alginate beads in the claimed diameter given that Thurman teaches the sodium alginate in compositions that comprise pH altering compounds and pH indicating compounds. Furthermore, it has been held that "The discovery of a previously unappreciated property of a prior art composition, or of a scientific explanation for the prior art's functioning, does not render the old composition patentably new to the discoverer." Atlas Powder Co. v. Ireco Inc., 190 F.3d 1342, 1347, 51 USPQ2d 1943, 1947 (Fed. Cir. 1999). Thus the claiming of a new use, new function or unknown property which is inherently present in the prior art does not necessarily make the claim patentable. In re Best, 562 F.2d 1252, 1254, 195 USPQ 430, 433 (CCPA 1977).

Art Unit: 1751

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

11. Claims 1, 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aleles et al (6,818,603)

Aleles et al disclose a cleansing soap bar comprising fatty acid soap (col. 3, lines 58-67), anti-acne active ingredients such as flavinoids (col. 5, lines 5-7) and a delivery system comprising a pH altering compounds.

Aleles et al do not teach each of the claimed components with sufficient specificity to exemplify the claimed composition. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the components to sufficiently teach the claimed composition because each of the components are well known in the skin cleansing art as conventional components and one of ordinary skill would have been motivated to combine the components to teach the claimed composition, absent a showing to the contrary.
